October 26, 2015, Salinas, CA – If you have experience in security and love football, you won't want to miss this exciting opportunity! Experienced security personnel are invited to participate in a recruitment event at America's Job Center of California, Business Center Conference Room at 730 La Guardia Street in Salinas on Wednesday, October 28 from 9:30A.M.-1 P.M.

Peninsula Security is hiring security officers for Super Bowl 50 which will take place on February 7, 2016 at Levi Stadium in Santa Clara. Successful applicants can expect to work approximately five days in advance of the event.

Those interested in participating in the recruitment event are expected to produce the following items on Wednesday, October 28: valid California Guard Card, valid California drivers' license, and high school diploma or GED. Selected applicants must possess professional verbal and written communication skills, motivation, understanding of the rules and regulations, as well as have advanced customer service and interaction skills. All applicants must pass a drug screening test and complete a background check.

Peninsula Security's mission is to provide quality education, training and service to those who protect and serve valuable lives and assets. Those selected for these temporary positions can expect to earn between $11.00-14.00 per hour, depending on experience and can expect to provide crowd control, safety to tailgate parties, bag check and security and parking assistance to thousands of Super Bowl fans.
